

SHOUT ABOUT YOUR VOLUNTEERING

Hello. I'm Terry Withers and I am a Director of Admiral Scaffolding which is located in Wimbledon.

In 2012 I founded The Admiral Trust.

Its aim is to use social networking to help people raise money for causes that are close to their heart.

No cause is too big or too small.

Admiral Trust members feel that anything which makes just one person's life just a little bit better is worth doing.

What do I enjoy about giving my time?

I set The Admiral Trust up in my spare time because I felt Admiral Scaffolding had a corporate social responsibility and this would be a good way to meet it.

The biggest challenge we have experienced is getting ourselves known and conveying our message to the local community. I volunteer alongside a board of trustees who give their time to building relationships in Merton.

I have enjoyed chairing the Admiral Trust both because it has been good working with the other trustees and it has been very satisfying seeing the positive effects of money we have raised to date.

My volunteering contributes to Merton because local people can contact us and through our network raise money for their own cause.
